

Dana started her HR career in retail while training to be a senior manager. After working in management for a short spell, Dana returned to HR but left retail to pursue a more meaningful career in the third sector in Edinburgh.

In 2023 Dana returned to the Island and joined the Association and now covers a wide range of tasks within the HR capacity. Dana focuses on a people centred approach to her role and champions colleague empowerment across the organisation.